WHY LEGATO SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING?

Expert Analysis & Instruction

Legato Security's cybersecurity analysts are uniquely qualified to instruct customers' employees on a variety of subjects:

- Recognizing and reporting phishing emails
- Reporting suspicious activities including malicious text messages, calls, and other social engineering efforts
- Organizational governance and business objectives as they relate to security

Industry Expertise

Legato's Security analysts have years of experience with organizations of all sizes and industries. From municipal governments to large construction contractors, Legato has intimate knowledge of the cybersecurity best practices and best-in-breed tools that customer organizations need. Legato's advisors help customers' employees gain a deep understanding of security policies and tools.

Customer-Centric Approach

Legato Security's expert consulting is tailored to customers' individual situation. Analysts take into account current resources, industry dynamics, and strategic business goals to hone our analysis and recommendations to specific customers. Know that the advise clients receive is actionable, directed, and realistic.

Regulatory Compliance

Because Legato Security's cybersecurity analysts have a wealth of experience across both private and public sectors, they are able to advise on regulations and industry-norms specific to each customer. Legato Security helps gain and maintain regulatory compliance to ensure customers operate within regulatory frameworks.

THE VALUE OF SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING

BREACH PREVENTION

Legato Security's Security Awareness Training will help improve an organization's security posture by educating employees on potential security threat vectors, how to spot phishing emails, and how to report suspicious activity before a breach can occur.

SAVINGS

Building out a specialized security awareness training program in-house can be costly and time-consuming. Working with Legato Security to deliver training represents a cost- and time-saving solution, freeing up internal teams to focus on business-critical tasks.

HANDS-ON

Legato Security Security Awareness Training means more than boiler-plate web-trainings. Our instruction is hands-on, featuring directed workshops and Q&A sessions.
